Annual Market Report

2003-2013

MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

2003-2013

We are pleased to present the most comprehensive annual report available on the Manhattan apartment market. Over 160,000 verified sales are included, a number of which were recorded after our quarterly market reports were released. We have also provided a summary of relevant economic indicators, including data on employment, Wall Street, building permits and interest rates.

Highlights of the report include:

- Manhattan apartment sales rose 13% in 2013 to their highest level since 2008, even though inventory fell sharply.
- New developments accounted for 14% of 2013's closings, down from 18% in 2012.
- The average apartment price fell 1% in 2013 to $1,448,308. There was a surge of high-end closings at the end of 2012, before capital gains rates were slated to rise for the wealthy. This, combined with lower inventory, led to fewer luxury closings in 2013.
- Sales over $20 million fell 35% in 2013, while sales over $40 million fell from 7 in 2012 to just 1 last year.
- The median price, which measures the middle of the market, rose to $855,000 in 2013 from $845,000 the prior year.
- Condo prices averaged just over $1.9 million in 2013, a new record.
- While the average co-op price fell in 2013, this was due solely to a decline in high-end sales. The median co-op price rose 2% to $665,000.
- Co-ops accounted for 57% of all apartment sales last year, their highest market share since 2005.
- Downtown was the only market to see its average price rise in 2013. A strong new development market helped push the average price 11% higher to $1,589,060.
